

REFUND POLICY

TAYKA

Last updated: _____

This Refund Policy applies to all purchases made through the TAYKA platform. By purchasing any product from TAYKA, you acknowledge and agree to the terms outlined below.

1. Nature of the Products

TAYKA offers digital educational and visual content delivered in PDF format. All products are intangible, non-physical goods and are delivered electronically via email after successful payment.

2. No Refund Policy for Digital Products

Due to the intangible and downloadable nature of the products:

- All sales are final.
- No refunds, returns, or exchanges will be issued once the digital product has been delivered.
- Access to the content is granted immediately upon delivery, making it impossible to revoke usage.

This policy aligns with standard practices for digital educational content.

3. Exceptions – Technical Issues

Refunds are not provided; however, in the following situations TAYKA may offer a solution:

- The product was not delivered due to a technical error caused by TAYKA.
- The file is corrupted or cannot be opened due to an error on our end.

In such cases, the product will be resent at no additional cost once the issue is verified.

4. User Responsibility

It is the responsibility of the user to:

- Provide a valid and accurate email address at checkout.
- Ensure their device and software are compatible with PDF files.
- Review product descriptions carefully before purchasing.

Failure to do so does not constitute grounds for a refund.

5. Educational Disclaimer

All content provided by TAYKA is for educational and informational purposes only. TAYKA does not guarantee specific outcomes, results, or performance based on the use of its materials.

Differences in interpretation, application, or expectations do not qualify for refunds.

6. Chargebacks and Disputes

Unauthorized chargebacks or payment disputes may result in the suspension of access to current and future purchases. We encourage users to contact TAYKA directly to resolve any issues before initiating a dispute with their payment provider.

7. Changes to This Policy

TAYKA reserves the right to modify or update this Refund Policy at any time. Changes will be effective immediately upon publication on the website.
